

What are the next steps after my Root Canal?

Following your visit with the Endodontist it will be recommended that you complete your treatment at Collins Dental within 30 days of your procedure.

We will wait for the Endodontist to send us a follow up letter and post-operative x-rays, after your procedure advising our doctors of the outcome of the visit.

Once the letter and post-operative x-rays are received by our office your doctor will review the letter to make sure there are not any changes in your recommended treatment.

Once your doctor approves the letter and treatment, our patient care coordinator will call you to review and schedule your treatment. This process could take upwards of two weeks after your root canal.

If you have any questions in between time, please feel free to call our office!
